Bachelor of Business Administration Limitless Program

We're aware that finances and relocation may be hurdles for some students considering a bachelors degree. That's why our Bachelor of Business Administration Limitless Program offers students the full Hult undergraduate experience, with added flexibility, and financial accessibility. So how does it work?

Stay home at first

Students will do the first half of their degree (one to two years) from home; studying the same bachelors curriculum as students on campus. With the help of state-of-the-art technology like electronic whiteboards and AI cameras, they'll get an interactive learning experience.

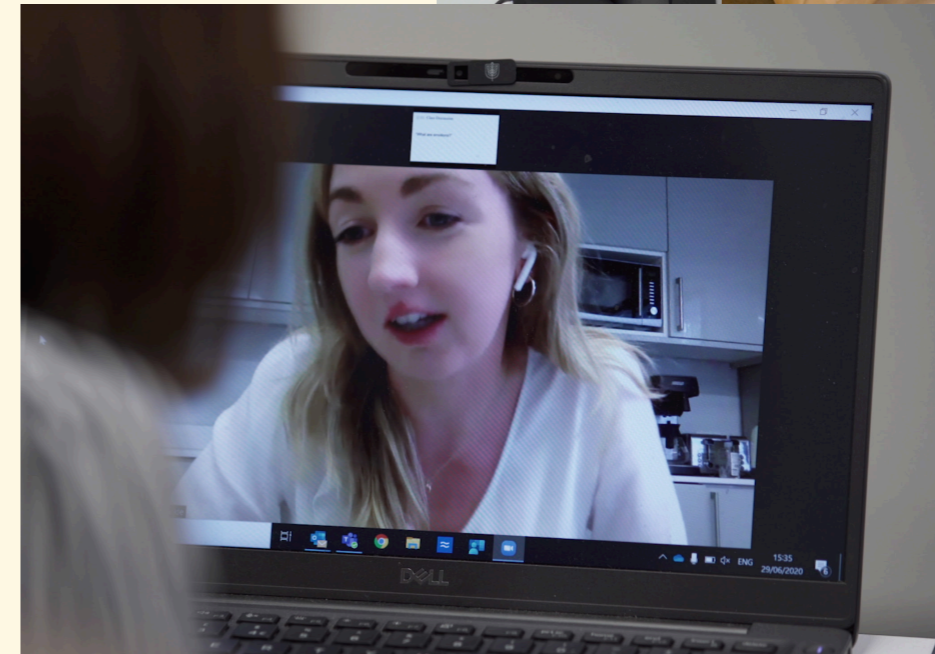

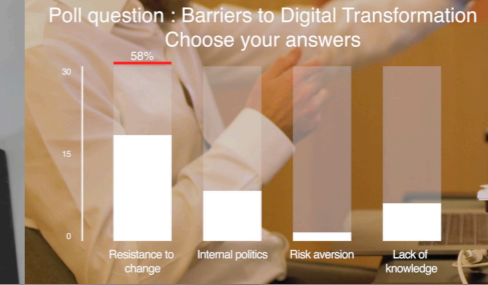

Save money

With reduced tuition for the virtual portion of the degree, students can save on tuition, accommodation, and living expenses without compromising on the quality of learning.

Come to campus & graduate

For the last one or two years, students will come to one of our campuses in London, Boston or San Francisco. They're also encouraged to spend any summer before they graduate participating in our Global Campus Rotation program to Dubai or Shanghai. Students graduate with a US accredited degree and are ready to make an impact on the business world.

Connect with us

Although this year is going to be different from others, we're determined to provide you and your students with memorable Hult experiences. So feel free to visit our campuses around the world, attend an event in your nearest city, or tune in online.

Enrollment consultation

Students can arrange a 1-2-1 meeting with our enrollment advisors to find out about our programs, campuses, financial support, and scholarship opportunities.

Virtual Skills Lab

An online global meeting space offering students the opportunity to skill up from home. Hult's professors discuss a variety of topics and current global issues in live webinars. These free webinars are open to all and we encourage you to tune in yourself.

Open House events

Get the full Hult experience by visiting any of our campuses—Boston, London, San Francisco, Dubai, or Shanghai—for our Open House events. If you can't make it to campus, you can join us for a virtual tour online.
